NEW SERIES.

SEDALIA, MISSOURI, TUESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1893.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

STATE CAPITAL.

THE MISSOURI GENERAL ASSEMBLY AT WORK.

MANY BILLS IN THE HOUSE.

The County Institute Law—The Express Companies Touched Up—The House Clerical Force.

Special to the Democrat.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 10.—After the inauguration ceremonies yesterday the house got down to business and about forty-five bills were introduced, mostly of a local nature and of not much importance. The senate, after the swearing in of Lieutenant Governor O'Meara, adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when the Ryors case will come up.

The house met this morning at the usual hour, and, after routine business, Tubbs, of Osage, set the ball to rolling with a resolution instructing the committee on accounts to pay to Swanger, of Sullivan, whose seat is contested, mileage, per diem and stationary account. The resolution caused a lengthy debate but was finally postponed until to-morrow.

The usual avalanche of bills then began to pour in, some meritorious and some not. Among the measures proposed were the following: A bill to repeal the fish laws; one repealing the county teachers' institute law; a bill to regulate passenger rates on the railroads; a measure intended to control the express companies, and another providing for state banks.

The committee on clerical force made its report recommending that the chief clerk be allowed thirty-one assistants (about half the number allowed last session,) the engrossing clerk eighteen, the enrolling clerk twelve, the door-keeper sixteen and the sergeant-at-arms one assistant.

Several bills were read a second time and referred, after which the house adjourned.

Notes.

Congressman Heard left at 3 p. m. this evening for Washington, after having spent a day most pleasantly with his friends and acquaintances. Heard's popularity among the party leaders from all parts of the state is something wonderful and speaks eloquently of the valuable and conscientious services he has rendered the people of Missouri.

Governor and Mrs. Francis left for St. Louis to-day. They are both prime favorites, not only in the social and official circles at the capital, but with Missourians from all quarters of the state.

The crowd that attended the inauguration ceremony afforded an excellent opportunity for thieves to get in their work, and they improved it. The room of Major John B. Breathitt was entered and Clint Tillery's pocketbook, containing $125, was stolen.

THE FRENCH CRISIS.

The Ministry Resigns Amid the Greatest Excitement.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The affairs of France are in a dangerous condition and the people are excited to the highest pitch. The ministry resigned today owing to differences in the cabinet, the arrest of the minister of public works and other matters.

The president has charged M. Ribots with the duty of reconstructing the ministry, which is at this time a most difficult task.

BLAINE RALLIES.

He is Still in a Very Dangerous Condition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Hon. James G. Blaine has rallied somewhat from the attack which came upon him at midnight and his friends are a little more hopeful that his life will be prolonged. He is still in a very dangerous condition and any hour may see the fatal termination of his malady.

MORE CHOLERA.

Two New Cases Quarantined at Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Jan. 10.—Two sailors on a Spanish steamship now in this port, have been seized with cholera. The vessel is in quarantine.

VANDALS AT WORK.

Dynamite Used to Destroy a Catholic Club Building.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 10.—A dynamite bomb was exploded in front of the Catholic club in Seraing, in the province of Liege, this morning greatly damaging the building. There is no clue as to the perpetrator of the outrage.

Increasing In Value.

Alderman McKinzie is back from Chicago with a number of the Columbus half-dollars. They are very pretty in design and execution, but it is feared will become a most valuable subject for shrewd counterfeiters. Those minted in 1892 are now worth $1.05, while those of the present year remain $1. The coins were sold to the management of the World's fair by the government at 50 cents each, their real value, with privilege of selling them at $1 each, the extra 50 cents to be used as a donation from the government.

TIRED OF LIFE.

Jacob Teufel Sends a Bullet Into His Brain—An Old Resident of Sedalia.

About 6 o'clock last evening Jacob Teufel, sr., ended his life by shooting himself through the right temple with a 38-calibre Smith & Wesson revolver, at his home, No. 514 East Third street.

The supper table had been spread and preparations were being made for the evening meal when the terrible event took place. The revolver when last seen by members of the family was on the kitchen mantel. Mr. Teufel evidently reached for the revolver and dropped it almost at the instant of firing it, as it was laying under his right leg in a position that would lead one to suppose that he fell upon it. His wife and two daughters were at home at the time and their outcries attracted a number of neighbors who found Mr. Teufel lying upon his left side with his face in a pool of blood.

Coroner Muehl was notified and preparations were made for holding an inquest. The body was removed in the meantime to the undertaking establishment of J. E. Millis. At 10 o'clock this morning Coroner Muehl had a jury summoned and proceeded to examine the case. The coroner's jury was composed of J. H. Looney, foreman; J. W. Burrell, J. S. Thomas, John Greer, E. E. Johnson and W. T. Gorrell. The following witnesses were placed upon the stand: W. A. Fast, Jos. Engelbrecht, George Kahrs, P. M. Day, Lee Oliver, J. B. Murphy and George Heisinger. None of them were present at the time of the suicide and they were either called in to the house or attracted by the pistol shot.

After sitting a short time the jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death at his own hands by a bullet from a 38-calibre Smith & Wesson revolver, fired with suicidal intent.

The only course that can be attributed as leading to the rash act is that Mr. Teufel had grown despondent over his prospects in life. He was a man of most peculiar views and about a month ago told George Kahrs, one of the witnesses examined, that he would not hesitate to commit suicide were it not for his family.

Mr. Teufel was about 60 years of age and had lived a citizen of Sedalia for many years, during which time he worked at the trade of shoemaking. He was a native of Germany. He leaves a wife and six children, three boys and three girls. William and Jacob Teufel are both well known, the former being a member of the boot and shoe firm of Teufel & Longmore, on Ohio street, at which place the deceased worked, and the latter is employed as salesman at the meat market of S. Wright & Son, 701 South Ohio street.

Coroner Muehl held no autopsy. The bullet was found upon the floor of the dining room by Jas. Engelbrecht, where it had rebounded after striking the wall.

The funeral will take place from the family residence at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Fined for Vagrancy.

A man named Clifford, recognized by Officer Frank Barnett as a crook, was arrested by him this morning upon the charge of vagrancy. Judge Fisher assessed a fine of $20 and costs and sent Clifford to jail.

Liquor for family use, 112 Osage, Frank Krueger.

BIG BOSTON FIRE.

A DISASTROUS CONFLAGRATION.

TWO FIREMEN KILLED.

The Walls of a Burning Building Fall Upon Them—The Loss Will be Heavy.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—A disastrous conflagration broke out on Federal street this morning and is still raging in spite of the heroic efforts of the fire companies.

During the progress of the fire the rear wall of one of the burning buildings, No. 219 Federal street, suddenly fell outward, burying in its ruins Firemen Carrigan and Chief Mullen, of South Boston.

The spectators were horrified at the fate of the brave firemen, but could do nothing to avert it. The loss will be very heavy.

Damaging Houses.

The heavy blasting at the tunnel is doing great damage to many buildings in various parts of town. The new brick buildings are showing the effects very plainly. The continuous bombardment is cracking the plaster and rendering the flues unsafe for use. If the blasting is kept up a few days longer, with the same sort of heavy discharges, the building will suffer incalculable injury. Lighter shots, it seems, would lessen the damages to the houses and greatly favor the anxious citizens of Rochepoort.—Rochepoort Commercial.

Funeral of W. P. Cousley.

The remains of W. P. Cousley, the building contractor, will arrive in Sedalia by Thursday and be interred in the cemetery. The time of the funeral will be announced in a day or two.

It will be remembered that the deceased came to his death by falling from a building which he was erecting in Denver. He was widely known in this city.

Run a Foot Race.

Officer Frank Barnett, of the Missouri Pacific had a lively chase to-day after two coal thieves, Jos. Martin and J. D. Varner. They had started hunting and when the officer appeared in sight struck a bee line for the country. They were caught after running several miles. They were each fined $5 and costs by Judge Blair.

Returning From Jefferson City.

The special train which bore the Kansas City delegation to the capital yesterday, passed back at an early hour this morning. Sedalia was well represented at the inaugural last night, and the scene is said to have been one of great brilliancy. The hall of representatives was crowded to its utmost capacity, as was the governor's mansion at the time of the reception. Among those who came back this morning are Thos. F. Mitchum, E. G. Cassidy, Recorder Rauck, Jas. Glass, W. H. Glass, of Kansas City; City Collector Hart and Font Merriweather.

Dismissed as Cured.

Robert Brosious, of California, left this morning after having completed a course in the Miner institute for dipsomania. He was dismissed as cured and it is safe to say that no sun ever shone brighter than that which beamed upon Mr. Brosious this morning.

THE PEOPLE ALL READ

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

SEDALIA will entertain two important conventions next week.

EVERYBODY is in favor of good roads, but not everybody is willing to go down in his pocket and help pay for them.

THE most important work for Sedalia just now is to adopt plans for cleaning the city and keeping it clean next summer.

A DEMOCRATIC governor in Illinois and a populist governor in Kansas. Really republicanism seems to be going out of fashion.

THUGS and highwaymen are nearly as bad in the mountains that have to be crossed by the gold hunters going to San Juan as they are in Chicago.

OHIO gave Cleveland one electoral vote; California gave Harrison one, and Oregon gave one to Weaver. Michigan's vote was five for Cleveland and nine for Harrison.

THE Washington correspondent of the Republic might well be in better business than attempting to ridicule Griff Prather, James O. Broadhead and Charlie Maffitt.

It is sad to see a strong man suffer as Blaine is doing in his fight against death. For weeks that contest has been waged, when all know there is no hope of other than a fatal termination of the struggle.

A MIGHTY good way to attract manufacturing establishments to the city is for every citizen to patronize those we already have and say a good word for them on all occasions. Thus the public will understand that every new industry established here has a friend in every Sedalian.

BOTH houses of the general assembly are organized. The new state officers have been inaugurated. The committees will be named in a few days, and then the real work of the session will begin. That it will be practical, conscientious work the character of the members plainly show.

EX-SECRETARY FAIRCHILD and the democrats who follow his teachings are trying to secure footing on the republican financial platform. If these gentlemen are correct in their theories, John Sherman should have been honored with the presidency in consideration of his services in demonetizing silver.

AN unusual occurrence takes place in Illinois to-day, being nothing more nor less than the inauguration of a democratic governor. Many years ago Illinois departed from the faith, but it was not possible that, with the noble example of Missouri before her eyes, there should not come repentance, reformation and a return to correct principles. Missouri congratulates her sister that she has again seen the light, and hopes that all the blessings of a government of the people, by the people, for the people, may be showered upon her without stint or measure.

WEARING ALLEGIANCE.

In the days when the feudal barons owned Europe, subject to but slight restraint from the kings, they had their retainers bound to them by solemn oaths of allegiance. In this country it has been a proud boast that the citizen owed allegiance only to his God and his country.

The Wabash railroad, however, has made a new departure and has required that the telegraph operators in its employ take an oath to remain "loyal" to the company in case of differences arising between the said company and its employees.

This course simplifies matters very much, and when it is applied to trainmen, shopmen, section men and laborers the road will find itself with a train of "loyal" retainers that would have made a feudal baron of the olden time open his eyes in wonder.

It is not stated whether or not this "oath of allegiance" binds the operator for life and his children after him, and it is to be presumed that the regulations have not become quite so rigorous all at once.

But that "oaths of allegiance" should be required of free American citizens is just a little startling, coming with the dawn of the twentieth century.

THE Pennsylvania railroad's fight against organized labor is not one that will enlist the sympathy of the public nor be endorsed by enlightened public opinion. Laboring men have the inalienable right to organize for their own protection and advancement, and it is tyrannical to attempt to deny this right.

That labor unions sometimes, under bad influences, go too far and themselves become tyrannical, is no reason why the innocent should be made to suffer along with the guilty. In these days of newspapers and telegraphs, every strike and every dispute between labor and capital must stand the scrutiny of the public. If the labor union has made a mistake and attempted to play the tyrant it receives the condemnation of the public for such acts. But if its grievances are well founded and the employer is oppressive or seeks to deprive the laborer of his rights as a free man and a citizen, then the employer receives the condemnation of public opinion and in the end is punished. There is room in this country for labor organizations; intelligently managed they benefit employer and employee alike; and independent American citizens should be left free to join or not to join such organizations, just as he is free to join any church or political party that pleases him. This is the only platform consistent with the liberty and equality guaranteed all citizens by our laws.

Gov. STONE will be overwhelmed with applications for appointments to office during the next few days. If he had a thousand good appointments to dispose of he could easily find good, competent, faithful democrats to fill them, and men who worked hard to bring about his nomination and election. But in truth the governor has very few appointments to make, in proportion to the number of applicants who are worthy of the honors they seek. So some good men must experience disappointment and defeat, but in all cases it should be borne with patience and good humor. No one should feel that the governor is deficient in loyalty to his friends because he cannot give all those friends a fat office or a merited honor.

THE presidential electors in the various states met yesterday to formally cast the vote for president and vice-president. The vote stood: Cleveland, 276; Harrison, 144; Weaver, 24.

SEDALIA wants as many railroads as she can get in order to bring more people and additional industries. But she wants good wagon roads, too, so that the ten thousand farmers, farmers' wives, farmers' sons and farmers' daughters who want to trade here can reach the city with the least possible inconvenience.

COL. WALLACE J. DAVIS, late editor of the Fayette Banner, has again entered the field of journalism in Missouri, having purchased the Pike County Post. Mr. Davis is a newspaper man of ability and experience and will give the people of old Pike a paper that will be worthy of their support. May success attend him.

AMUSEMENTS.

Vernona Jarbeau at the Opera House last night created no little merriment. This time she is surrounded by some really clever people.

The play "Starlight" is a good one. The piece has been starring through the country for five years and in Chicago it was the rage. It comes this time trimmed up, freshened and localized. There is in it a refreshing newness in some of the jokes, and the antics of the comedians. There is some very good singing in solo and chorus, and on the whole "Starlight" is pretty sure not to fade.

The Peyton Comedy company is the attraction at the opera house all next week with usual Saturday matinee. Monday night ladies will be admitted free when accompanied by a boughten ticket. Numbers will be given out during the week. Thirty-five dollars in gold will be given away Saturday night to the parties holding the lucky numbers. A doll will be given to the little girl at the matinee and a bicycle, sled or some nice present to the boy holding the lucky number. Popular prices will prevail, 10, 20 and 30 cents.

A Skeleton and a Knife.

The workmen upon the M., K. & E., one mile east of town, while blasting off the point of a bluff last week, exposed a small cavern in the rocks, in which was lying the skeleton of a man. The entrance to the cave had been stopped up with various sorts of debris, suggesting that a foul murder may have been concealed from time out of mind. A further evidence of murder or suicide was shown by the presence of a large dirk knife, the rusty blade of which was sticking between the ribs up to the hilt. An oak tree was growing in the mouth of the cave, in such a manner as to effectually prevent the entrance of a human body. This small tree showed twenty-nine rings of annual growth, and furnishes conclusive evidence that the interment of the unknown corpse must have been as far back as the war or earlier. Some of our citizens suggest that this mysterious grave might have been made by Bill Anderson during the rebellion, as it is near the point where he frequently crossed the river, and known as the "Anderson rock."—Rocheport Commercial.

A Happy Marriage.

The hospitable home of County Collector M. Doherty, near Green Ridge, was the scene of a most pleasant event to-day, the occasion being the marriage of his accomplished daughter, Miss Katherine Doherty, to Mr. Patrick Conner, a prosperous and esteemed young farmer living in Elk Fork township. Owing to the late bereavement in Mr. Doherty's family, the wedding was quiet and unostentatious, only the relatives and immediate friends being present. The Democrat extends its warmest congratulations, and wishes the young people a life of greatest happiness.

Hospital Arrivals.

The following patients have been received at the M., K. & T. hospital:

Wm. M. Grow, section hand, Pottsville, Texas, abscess on left leg.

Liquor for family use, Frank Krueger, 112 Osage street.

Wants Him to Keep the Peace.

The case in which Dr. James W. Cheek seeks to have W. E. Means give security to keep the peace has been continued in Justice Leven's court until January 20th at which time evidence will be heard and, if sufficient, the desired action taken by the court. The trouble is said to have begun in Dr. Cheek's office last Saturday.

Were Not Convicted.

Jordan Murphy and Henry Willis, the two colored men charged with stealing an Irish setter dog from Fred Farnham on December 23rd, had a hearing in Justice Fisher's court yesterday afternoon and were discharged.

LEGAL.

Official Council Proceedings.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, SEDALIA, MO., December 12, 1892.—Council met in regular session, Mayor Stevens presiding.

Minutes of the last regular meeting read and approved.

A petition from the property holders on the north side of Broadway from Ohio street to the M., K. & T. tracks requesting that an ordinance be passed to build a sidewalk of either brick, concrete or stone. On motion of Wigton, petition granted.

A petition was read from J. R. Barrett requesting that 40 acres of land taxed by the city be stricken from the tax books on account of being used for agricultural purposes. On motion, petition was received and placed on file. Carried.

A communication was read from assistant engineer of the Missouri Pacific railway company, H. Rohrer, relative to establishing grades on all streets in the city received and placed on file.

Two remonstrances were read from the property holders on West Seventh street, protesting against receiving the curbing on West Seventh. On motion of Bossman, they were received and placed on file. Carried.

On motion of Dean, the street and alley committee were instructed to wire Mr. Gilfillan, the contractor, to come to Sedalia at once and adjust the curbing matter on Seventh street to the satisfaction of the property owners. Carried.

A petition from the property holders on North Ohio avenue requesting that a sidewalk be laid on the west side of Ohio street between Jefferson and Pacific streets. Petition received and placed on file.

On motion of Dugan, the chair appointed a committee of three to confer with Mr. Lamy in regard to above petition. Carried.

The mayor appointed Dugan, Honkomp and Hutchinson on said committee.

A claim from William Holt was presented and read of $15.50 damages on account of not being allowed to build a sidewalk on Ingram avenue as per contract, awarded him December 1, 1892. On motion of Honkomp, referred to street and alley committee.

The matter of paving East Third street from Hancock avenue east to Engineer street laid over till second meeting in January, 1893.

On motion of Hutchinson the bids for the paving of the alley between Fifth and Sixth and Lamine and Ohio were opened and read. Carried. The following bids were opened and read:

Wm. Holt proposed to do the work for $2.75 per square yard, according to specification. Simpson & Meir for $1.10 per square yard.

On motion of Dugan, Simpson & Meir were awarded the contract as being the best and lowest bidders. Carried.

A bill was presented from Drs. Dressel and Dunlap for $25 for professional services rendered in taking care of Wm. Scott, shot while trying to escape from the police on the night of December 17, 1892.

On motion of Dugan the claim was referred to the committee on claims. Carried.

On motion of Wigton, an ordinance providing for the licensing of boarding houses, the regulation thereof and a penalty for its violation was placed on its first reading. Carried.

On motion of Dean, the rules were suspended and the ordinance placed on its second reading. Carried.

On motion of Honkomp the rules were suspended and the ordinance placed on its third reading. Carried.

On motion of McKenzie, the rules were suspended and the ordinance placed on its final passage. Carried unanimously, all the members present.

On motion of Honkomp, a warrant was allowed L. Barrett, a painter, for services rendered on the cemetery fence. Carried.

On motion of Wigton, the report of the city engineer accepting the paving of the alley in block 47 was received and tax bills ordered issued in favor of the First National bank. Carried.

On motion of Honkomp, bills to the amount of $92.50 properly signed by the different committees were allowed and warrants ordered issued for same. Carried.

On motion of Wigton, the city clerk was ordered to notify the contractors now working on East Third street to remove all debris, etc., from the sidewalks and construct proper crossings necessary for the safety of pedestrians. Carried.

On motion of Honkomp, the report of the city engineer accepting the grading of West Seventh was received and tax bills ordered issued in favor of W. J. White for same. Carried.

On motion of Honkomp that a special committee be appointed to confer with the city attorney in regard to health officers. Carried.

The mayor appointed Honkomp, Hutchinson and Bossman on the above committee.

On motion the supply committee were instructed to buy blankets for the prisoners in the calaboose. Carried.

On motion of Dugan, the city clerk was instructed to notify the water and gas committees that if they wish to lay gas or water pipes on any of the streets now contemplating being paved to do so before the paving contract is let. Carried.

On motion of McKenzie, the city engineer was instructed to investigate the catch basin nuisance and report at the next meeting. Carried.

On motion of Honkomp, the street and alley committee were instructed to re-advertise for bids for sidewalks on Second street, according to ordinance passed. Carried.

On motion of Dean, the street commissioner was instructed to place crossings at Fifth and Harrison streets and Fifth and Hancock. Carried.

On motion of McKenzie a committee consisting of Bossman, Honkomp, Dugan and Deckman were instructed to see Mr. Metser in regard to better lights on our streets. Carried.

On motion of Dugan that the arc light on the corner of Fifth and Lamine be removed to Sixth and Lamine. Also, the arc light on the corner of Second street and Mill be removed to Main and Mill streets, be referred to public lighting committee.

On motion of Bossman the wagon purchased by the mayor for the purpose of delivering groceries, wood, etc., was accepted and bill for same allowed.

On motion of Honkomp the committee on claims was given further time to report. Carried.

The following resolutions were read and adopted as follows, to-wit: Be it resolved, that we deem and declare it necessary that both sides of West Fifth street in the city of Sedalia, Mo., be curbed from the west line of Ohio street to the east line of Grand avenue except at such places as there is now constructed a stone, concrete or granite curb, and that this resolution be published for two consecutive weeks in the newspaper doing this city printing.

On motion of Deckman resolution was adopted as read.

The following resolution was presented and read as follows:

That we deem and declare it necessary that Fifth street in the city of Sedalia, Mo., be paved from the west line of Ohio avenue west to the east line of Grand avenue and that this resolution be published for two consecutive weeks in the newspaper doing the city printing.

On motion of McKenzie council adjourned to meet Wednesday, December 28, 1892.

EDWARD HUGH, City Clerk.

POPULISTS ARE IN.

REPUBLICANS TURN KANSAS OVER TO THEM.

INAUGURATED WITHOUT CEREMONY

First Populist Administration on Earth Comes Into Power — Governor Humphrey Steps Down and Out and Governor Leveaux Takes Up the Reins of Government — The Address.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—The triumph of the Populists of Kansas, made possible at the polls in November, was fulfilled a few minutes after noon yesterday, when the state government was formally surrendered by the vanquished to the victors.

The ceremony took place in the hall of the house of representatives and was witnessed by probably the greatest crowd that has ever assembled in Kansas on a similar occasion. The hall, including both galleries, was packed to its utmost capacity, and hundreds who came late were compelled to stand without the doors or interest themselves in the offices and departments below until the ceremony was over.

The capacity of the room is not to exceed 1,500. It has been filled many times but never before has there been such a variegated crowd in it. Many of the men and women present had never seen the inside of the state house before and knew as little about the state government and the men who conduct it as children. They came from all parts of the state. The late trains last night were crowded and many to make sure that they would not miss a single item of the day's events, were up with the sun and headed towards the capitol. They began to gather in the hall as early as 9 o'clock and viewed the surroundings with an air of ownership that made the Republicans, who stood like boys driven from their play ground by bigger boys, indulge in piratical language.

The decorations, while ample, were not of that gorgeous hue which would have characterized the event had the Republicans been the victors. On the walls hung the pictures of the territorial governors, Andrew H. Reeder and John W. Geary, and of the state governors, Charles Robinson, S. J. Crawford, Thomas A. Osborne, John P. St. John, George W. Glick and John A. Martin. Over the entrance below the main gallery, was a splendid portrait of John Brown, set in the midst of potted plants. On the opposite wall, below the speaker's gallery, were steel engravings of Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Above these the American flag was stretched the full length of the gallery wall, and the speaker's stand was completely hidden in a wilderness of plants. Festoons suspended from the chandeliers and the crowd completed the picture.

There were many notables of both parties present, but they attracted no attention, and as not one in a hundred Populists recognized their leaders when they came in, there were no demonstrations by that element. Even the bulky figure of A. J. Streeter, once a candidate for president, was not recognized when he came in, although unable to find a seat, he stood for a half hour in full view of the multitude. Precisely at noon the old and new officers appeared in the hall by the door below the speaker's gallery, and took seats at the right of the stand. Chief Justice Horton then stepped to the clerk's desk and deposited a worn copy of the Bible which he had used in administering the oath on eight inaugural occasions here, and which chief justices before him have used from the beginning of the state's history.

At 12:10 John W. Briedenthal, chairman of the People's party state central committee and master of ceremonies, stepped to the speaker's stand and said that the people had assembled to inaugurate the first People's party administration on earth and he judged from the looks of the audience before him that the state officers would begin their duties with the good will of the people.

The Rev. G. Todd invoked the divine blessing. The chairman then introduced Governor Humphrey, who, after the applause which greeted him had subsided spoke as follows:

GOVERNOR HUMPHREY'S FAREWELL. Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen: It is not my purpose to detain you with any extended remarks. Nothing I could say would be calculated to lend any special interest to this occasion. My part is a happy illustration of the operations of our free institution, for, although the outgoing and incoming administrations represent different political organizations, which so recently contended before the people for supremacy, yet to-day all low adding citizens accept the result and bow to the will of the majority as legally expressed at the polls. And I am here to-day in this public presence, pursuant to a long established custom, only for the purpose of witnessing the inauguration of my successor and to turn over to him the seals and archives of the great trust to which he has been chosen.

It is indeed a high honor to be the governor of Kansas, with her 1,500,000 of the brightest and best people on earth, and I most heartily congratulate my worthy successor on having been chosen to so great a trust, which I know he will hold sacred, as I have endeavored to do, and I hope sincerely that during his administration the good people of the commonwealth may continue in the enjoyment of the blessings of peace and prosperity in the fullest degree.

But while I thus congratulate my successor, who will soon take the oath of office in your presence, I know he is not unmindful of the fact that with the great honor must come grave duties and serious responsibilities, and that no matter how faithfully he may endeavor to discharge these duties and responsibilities he cannot hope to escape criticism as I have learned by experience during the four years of my incumbency in the executive office.

While I am deeply and truly grateful to the good people of the state and fully appreciate the honor conferred upon me by their suffrages in the past, I await the day when I may be relieved with pleasure and satisfaction, glad indeed to lay down the burden of care and responsibility inseparable from high official station.

With a renewed expression of my profound gratitude to the people of Kansas, and a prayer for their continued happiness and prosperity, I have now the pleasure and satisfaction of presenting to you my honored and worthy successor, Governor Leveaux.

AFFECTS MUCH PROPERTY.

A Land Decision of Importance Handed Down at Guthrie.

GUTHRIE, Ok., Jan. 10.—Chief Justice Green yesterday rendered a decision in the district court which, if it is sustained by the higher courts, will involve a change in title of property in Oklahoma worth over $1,000,000.

At the opening of the territory, Deputy United States Marshal Ransom Payne, who was then, and is still, stationed here in an official capacity, filed upon a quarter section of land for a homestead, but the same land was staked off in lots by other settlers and claimed as part of the townsite of East Guthrie. Secretary Noble gave title to townsite settlers, holding that while Payne was lawfully in the territory on the day of opening he had no right to take land. Payne brought suit to have the deeds of the townsite trustees set aside and Judge Green yesterday decided that he was in every respect a qualified entryman, but as the same question is now before the supreme court no action can be taken by the lower court. There are similar cases in every city in the territory and the final decision is anxiously awaited.

OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE.

A Combination of Republicans and Populists Will Control Everything.

GUTHRIE, Ok., Jan. 10.—The second legislative assembly of Oklahoma territory will convene in this city this afternoon. The upper house will contain seven Republicans and six Democrats, the lower house twelve Republicans, nine Democrats, one Independent and four Populists. The Republicans will get everything in the upper house, and at a caucus last night perfected an arrangement whereby they are to have the chairmanship of the lower house, and the Populists most of the minor places.

Fighting for an Office.

ECIERA, Kan., Jan. 10.—Greenwood county has two claimants for the district clerk's office. H. P. Owen has been clerk during the past two years, and was a candidate on the Populist ticket for re-election, but was defeated by nine votes on the face of the returns by T. J. Souders, Republican. Recently Owen discovered evidence of fraudulent votes, and refused to surrender the office. Souders managed to get into the room during Owen's absence, and had a new lock put on the door. The vault containing the records is, however, locked, and Owen alone knows the combination. Court is in session, and Judge Shinn administers all oaths to jurors and witnesses pending the outcome of the contest. The affair has created great excitement.

The Senate Organization.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—The Populist state senators met in a caucus yesterday afternoon and agreed upon the following organization to-morrow: President pro tem., L. P. King of Cowley county; secretary, W. L. Brown of Kingman; door keeper, David Shull of Wichita. Senator King was elected four years ago as a Republican, but acted with the Alliance and voted for Peffer. He was re-elected as a straight Populist. W. L. Brown is the editor of a Populist paper at Kingman and president of the Reform Editorial association, and Shull was a member of the house two years ago. M. A. Householder of Cherokee, who was mentioned for president pro tem., refused to have his name considered. He wants a position on the state board of charities and thought this election might jeopardize his chances.

Failure of Steinburg Bros.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Jan. 10.—Steinburg Bros., wholesale and retail dealers in clothing and gents' furnishing goods, made an assignment last evening to M. Newark. Chattel mortgages for the amount of $30,000 have been filed, as it was before the assignment, will reach $50,000. The assets are not known, but will probably largely exceed the debts. Steinburg Bros. have been in business in Lawrence over twenty years and have always stood well.

Reading Combine Broken.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—The great Reading coal combine is broken. The New Jersey Central railroad company has withdrawn from it and will thereafter be operated independently, the same as it was before the agreement with the Reading and Lehigh Valley was entered into. What influences moved the Central to take this step are not known, but undoubtedly fear of action on the part of the legislature had something if not all to do with it.

Missouri's Electors Meet.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 10.—The electoral college of the state met here yesterday morning and on the fourth ballot chose Edward M. Harber of Grundy county as messenger to carry Missouri's presidential vote to Washington.

In answer to a report that he intends to vote with the Democrats in organizing the senate, Senator Peffer says that he has not yet made up his mind what course he shall pursue.

WILL BE NO RIOT.

CONSERVATIVES WIN IN THE POPULIST CAUCUS.

FUSION DEMOCRATS RECOGNIZED.

Dismore of Neosho County, a Conservative Fusion Democrat, Nominated for Speaker—Contestants and Contestees Will All Be Admitted to the Hall—Other Nominations Made.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—After wrangling over the various plans proposed until after 1 o'clock this morning the Populist caucus adjourned with a victory for the conservative element of the party. Dismore of Neosho county, a fusion Democrat, was made the caucus nominee for speaker, and Ryan of Labette county, a fusion Democrat, will be the party candidate for speaker pro tem. Ben S. Rick, of Osborne county, will be the Populist candidate for chief clerk.

It was further agreed that the state officers, the contestants and contestees and representatives of the press should be admitted to the hall. The matter of organization by force was fought to a finish in the caucus and the victory under the circumstances for the conservative wing of the party is a sweeping one.

Another caucus was called for 8 o'clock this morning, but the indications are that the plans will be carried out as outlined by the caucus last night. The Populists still contend that they will be able to organize the house, but Republicans say there is no longer any doubt about the election of Douglass. From a senatorial standpoint the recognition of Dismore and Ryan is favorable to a fusion Democrat for senator.

WILD TALK.

Jerry Simpson Lets His Tongue Get the Better of His Judgment.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—At the reception in Representative hall last night Jerry Simpson and other prominent Populists spoke. Following is the meat of Simpson's speech in reference to the organization of the house: "There is a time in the history of every country," he said, "and of every nation when the laws are not sufficient to meet the occasions; when the rights of the people can not be protected by a strict adherence to the technicalities of the law. Such an occasion may come to-morrow. When two strong ships come together on the surging waves in mid ocean there is a wreck to the bottom, while the other, the strongest and best, rides majestically on the waves. On the morrow when the representatives of the two parties interested come together that which is right will win the day. The people of this state always stand by the men who fight for the right and if in that fight to-morrow it is necessary to do something unusual, let the members of the People's party remember that the people of the state are behind them."

Before the inaugural reception meeting had adjourned Mrs. Lease as usual succeeded in creating a sensation and stirring up strife. This time Dr. S. McAllin, editor of the Alliance Advocate and a mild mannered man was her victim. Dr. McAllin presided over the meeting and had unfortunately published an editorial in his paper stating that Mrs. Lease was too radical. She took this as a personal insult and turned on Dr. McAllin with a fiery speech in which she said that she used these radical utterances when McAllin was feeding off plutocratic pap and had made it possible for him to preside over a Populist meeting.

She then declared for a straight out Populist senator and the crowd cheered her to the echo. G. S. Clemens made a very incendiary speech in which he said that he was ready to die when the Populists had control of this country.

POLICE BOARDS STILL GO.

The New Administration Decides They Have Not Been Abolished.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—The first official act of the new administration was a decision by Attorney General Little holding that the board of police commissioners had not been abolished. A few minutes after the oath of office had been administered the following dispatch was received, dated Leavenworth:

"Marshal Hacker claims that the metropolitan police board of Leavenworth is abolished and has appointed a new marshal. Shall I surrender to new marshal? Answer quick."

"J. H. ROSENTHAL, Marshal."

Noah Allen, deputy attorney general, sent the following reply: "Police commissioners not dissolved. See section 748, general statutes of '82." In an interview Deputy Allen stated that the attorney general held that the statutes required a proclamation by the governor in order to dissolve the police boards, and that as Governor Humphrey had issued none, they were still vested with full authority.

Voted for Weaver and Field.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

Governor Leveaux Dwells Upon the Wrongs of the Masses.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—Governor Leveaux received a mighty ovation as he stepped forward to deliver his inaugural address. It was several minutes before the new chief magistrate would speak, so enthusiastic were his hosts of admirers in all parts of the hall. When order had at length been restored, however, he spoke as follows:

Honored Governor and Fellow Citizens: The profound responsibilities of this moment are too great for the individual. For the present we are citizens more than partisans, and each must lend his strength to bear this burden. Adopting the language of an eminent statesman, "It is not that we love party less, but country more," that now upon the threshold of the new year and surrounded with new conditions we plead the cause of a higher and purer patriotism, and demand that political parties shall exist by reason of progressive principles rather than subsist upon the spoils of office.

The "survival of the fittest" is the government of brutes and reptiles and such philosophy must give place to a government which recognizes human brotherhood. It is the same sentiment today is resolved into a struggle of masses with classes for supremacy and bread until business, home and personal integrity are trembling in the face of possible want in a tiger regularly and you tame and make him harmless, but hunger makes tigers of men. When this beast is wounded by a hunter in India and is making preparations for a desperate assault, the musicians, seated on an elephant, play viciously to charm him with their melody. And thus the people are appeased by a jingle of the sordid words of party platforms.

Two great forces are forming in battle line: the same ancient and modern forces and guise that have long been in deadly antagonism, rendered in master and slave, lord and vassal, king and peasant, despot and serf, landlord and tenant, lender and borrower, organized and unorganized, the divided and the helpless poor. I appeal to the people of this great commonwealth to array themselves on the side of humanity and justice. If it be true that the people have no right to the property which they have produced, and that the rich have no right to the property of the poor, it is the mission of Kansas to protect and advance the moral and material interests of all its citizens. It is its special duty at the present time to protect the producer from the ravages of combined wealth. National legislation has for twenty years fostered and protected the interests of the few, while it has left the South and West to supply the products with which to feed and clothe the world and thus to become the servants of wealth. The demand for free coinage has been refused. The national banks have been permitted to withdraw their circulation and thus the interests of the East and West have been sacrificed. The passage of the McKinley bill culminated in their divorcement. The purchasing power of a dollar has become so great that corn, wheat, beef, pork and cotton have scarcely commanded a price equal to the cost of production. The instincts of patriotism have naturally rebelled against such unwarranted encroachments of the power of money.

Sectional hatred has also been kept alive by the rich to make the laborer unable to control the products and make the producer contribute to the millionaire. And thus while the producer labors in the field, the shop and the factory, the millionaire usurps his earnings and rides in gilded carriages with liveried servants. To check and change the conditions for the good of all, Kansas steps forth to-day, and while demanding the rights of the laborer and producer, she also presents the lives, health and peace and good will to the people of the South by sending a message to congress a distinguished farmer and stock raiser, who was a colonel in the confederate army.

Under the peaceful revolution that comes to Kansas to-day, let us hope that there may come a spirit of renewed devotion to the interests of the people, a spirit of sympathy for those who struggle and an awakening to the greatness and the responsibility of citizenship. The state is greater than party; but the citizen is greater than the state, while the family, the citizen produces, is the priceless jewel of our civilization. The problem of to-day is how to make the state subservient to the individual rather than to become his master. Government is a voluntary union for the common good. It guarantees to the

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

Mayor Stevens Names the Gentlemen to Attend the State Road Convention.

A letter has been received from Levi Chubbuck, secretary of the state board of agriculture, by Mayor Stevens which requests that a committee be appointed to represent Sedalia and meet Secretary Chubbuck at the court house on January 10th, the day upon which the state road convention convenes.

Mayor Stevens has accordingly acted upon the request and the following excellent committee appointed: J. B. Quigley, Geo. P. B. Jackson, Jno. N. Dalby, Cyrus Newkirk, Jno. Cashman, J. H. Bothwell and Chris Hye. The mayor urges that the members of the committee do not fail to be present at the meeting is one of the greatest importance.

In Honor of Miss Scates.

A pleasant number of ladies and gentlemen were entertained last evening by Miss Tillie and Clara Snider, at their home on West Fourth street. The occasion was in honor of Miss Effie Scates, of Attica, Kans., sister of Mrs. W. A. Adams, of this city. The evening was pleasantly spent by all, and excellent music rendered by different ones. The refreshments were choice and daintily served. Miss Scates is a most charming and highly cultured young lady. She leaves for her home this afternoon.

"Royal Ruby" Port Wine.

If you are reduced in vitality or strength by illness or any other cause, we recommend the use of this Old Port Wine, the very blood of the grape. A grand tonic for nursing mothers, and those reduced by wasting disease. It creates strength; improves the appetite; nature's own remedy, much preferable to drugs; guaranteed absolutely pure and over five years of age. Young wine ordinarily sold is not fit to use. Insist on having this standard brand, it cost no more. $1 in quart bottles, pints 60 cts. Royal Wine Co. For sale by A. S. McGowan.

None Better in the Land.

John McGinley is walking around to-day, surprising his friends by dropping in upon them and giving them a good shake of the hand. Johnny has had a severe spell of sickness, and had it not been for his remarkable constitution, Sedalia would have lost one of her best and most genial gentlemen. Johnny is now giving the cook more trouble than a half dozen ordinary men; his appetite is simply immense.

SUCCESSFUL STORAGE BATTERY

A Street Car Thus Equipped Running Regularly in Detroit. From the Detroit Free Press.

Ever since last Monday morning a car operated by the Woodward storage battery has been doing daily service on the Jefferson avenue street car line, taking and holding its position without a single break in the regular service of that route, and doing a ten-trip (or seventy miles) stint between early morning and 7 o'clock, evening, each day. This has been done side by side with the trolley cars, taking traffic just as it developed, carrying as high as eighty-five passengers at a load, and starting and stopping wherever and as often as required by patrons of the road. This exhibit has been made as the beginning of an effort to demonstrate beyond peradventure the commercial value of this storage battery. That the car did each day's work absolutely on time at every point of each trip; that, compared with trolley cars, it was almost noiseless and remarkably smooth and comfortable as a vehicle and that it was in every way superior to the trolley car—are facts apparent on the surface to the most casual observer.

"But," say the street car experts—at least some of them do, "the observations and opinions of novices are of no value on this subject." Accordingly a representative of the Free Press called on E. C. Brown, of the Michigan Central railroad, to obtain the views of an expert in all matters pertaining to railways.

"Not only," said Mr. Brown, "do I believe that the storage battery solves the problem of street car propulsion, but I believe this storage battery, now at work on Jefferson avenue, solves the problem of a commercially valuable storage battery. Moreover, I believe that within ninety days the general public will think as I do about the matter. There is this about the storage battery that the general public seems to lose sight of. Only and exactly such power is used as the business demands. On the other hand the trolley car system must be operated at its maximum power because the engineer at the central power house cannot know and does not know whether the demands upon the system will be heavy or light at any given time. Accordingly, to be ready for any demand, he must keep up the maximum. And all this requires coal."

"Is there any danger with the storage battery system?" "Absolutely none. A person may, without getting any shock whatever, touch any part of the car, the battery or the motor itself. It is absolutely harmless. Another thing, this is a battery which cannot be 'knocked down'—that is, it will not 'buckle' or give way under repeated short circuits. Of course I cannot say exactly how long the plates will last without replenishing, but I am absolutely confident that they will last at least two years and even at the end of that time it will only be necessary to replenish the positive plates. You know the negative plates will last forever. They never change."

"How about the expense, relatively, between operating a storage battery car, a trolley car and a horse car?"

"This car, even with its primitive and expensive charging equipment, can beat horse cars $2 per day per car, and it is cheaper than the trolley car by at least $1 a day. This storage battery system, properly equipped and conducted, will operate ten cars a day at less cost than seven trolley cars could be operated."

"Is this difference the only advantage?"

"By no means, and yet that is a sufficient difference, all other things being equal. But this storage battery obviates the stalling of fifteen or twenty cars by the breaking down of one car. By the trolley system a break at the central power house or anywhere on the line stops every car on the line. If a storage battery gives out for any cause the car following it has sufficient power to push the disabled one back to the charging station and get it out of the way for repairs without interfering with the other cars."

"You spoke of the primitive, inexpensive charging equipment at present in use."

"Yes. Go up to the Jefferson avenue barn and look at it. You will see a shed there in which you will find a little traction engine of fifteen horse power and a 100 volt dynamo. With the engine operating that dynamo they work, at night, about seven hours in charging the storage battery with 300 amperes of power, and with that power the car makes its ten trips daily as you see. Well equipped (as a system running, say ten or twelve cars should be equipped), it would be possible to charge five storage battery cars in the same length of time and about the same cost that are now required to charge the single car."

In order to get a personal know-edge of the characteristics of the storage battery car, the reporter next boarded the car for a ride up the avenue and there he met G. H. Gale. This man listened to the estimate given by Mr. Brown, as repeated by the reporter, after which he said: "It is not enthusiasm which has caused Mr. Brown to speak as he has. In the first place he is not that kind of a man, and in the next place he knows all about this storage battery. Pshaw! I actually believe that if this battery hailed from somewhere down east there would be more Detroit capital at its service than it could use. You see it comes from this city. It is a Detroit institution and they are afraid of it."

"But it's all right, isn't it?"

"All right! You just wait about thirty days. Scarcely a day passes that I do not meet with people from other cities who visit Detroit to see the battery and learn its progress."

"PLAISANTERIE."

Apropos of predictions made by the planchette board, the Rev. H. St. Maul Willoughby, assistant curate of St. Luke's, London, writes to mention a remarkable circumstance of which he was a witness. In a country house in the Midlands planchette was being exhibited, and a gentleman who was entirely skeptical as to its powers was asked by Mr. Willoughby whether he would believe in it if it would answer some question passing through his mind, which he would not reveal to the company.

"Certainly," said he; "then, and not until then, I will believe that there is no hoax or humbug." Immediately the mystic board rushed off and spelled the two words "French joke." "Is that a satisfactory reply?" was asked. As it was not, planchette was requested to explain itself, whereupon it instantly wrote: "What is joke in French?" None of the party remembered, and the French dictionary had to be consulted, when the skeptic, jumping up with an exclamation of surprise, exclaimed:

"I asked the question in my own mind, and not a soul in the room could know it. What horse is going to win the Cambridgeshire? and here is the answer"—as he handed the dictionary to the others—"Plaisanterie!" This happened to be one of the foremost competitors for that year's race. Whether anybody present won anything as a result of the information so mysteriously furnished is not stated.

On the Wrong Peg.

A passenger from Portland to Boston on a Boston and Maine train a few days ago became considerably excited for a novel reason. The Boston and Maine cars, as is well known, are equipped with automatic danger signals. At each end of every car there is a hook, and in case of an accident by pulling down this hook the train is brought to a most sudden standstill by the brakes. The gentleman referred to entered the smoking car just beyond Haverhill, and, pulling off his overcoat, proceeded to hang it up on the danger hook. Instantly there was a terrific bump, and the train came to a standstill in a manner that nearly knocked the breath out of every passenger. Trainmen rushed out to find what the trouble was, but everything seemed to be in working order. A search finally led to the discovery of the overcoat hanging on the hook, and a sigh of relief escaped the passengers.
